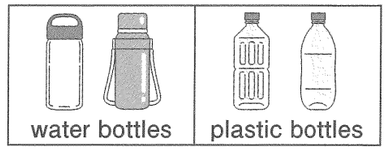
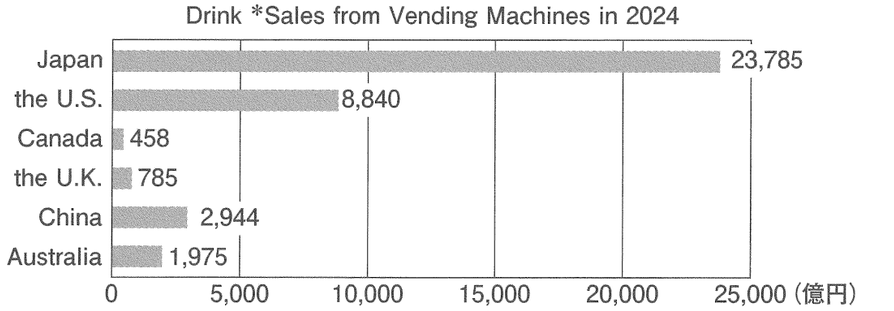
4　放課後，高校生の美咲(Misaki)と陸(Riku)が，カナダからの留学生であるアリソン(Allison)と話をしています。以下の会話を読んで，（1）～（6）の問いに答えなさい。



Allison: Riku, Misaki, let's go home together!
Misaki: Wait! I'm thirsty. I want to buy a *drink from that *vending machine.
Allison: What? Don't you have *water bottle filling stations in Japan? In *Canada, we can get water freely when we bring our water bottles there.
Riku: Many people in Japan use water bottles, but there aren't many places like that.
Allison: Wow, that's not very [A]. I don't understand why there are so many vending machines in Japan. I think they use a lot of electricity because they work for 24 hours.
Misaki: I just thought they were common around the world! I don't know about vending machines very much, so I want to know more about them.
Allison: OK, let's see.... I'll find more information on my smartphone, so you can go and buy a drink.
Misaki: Thank you.

[A few minutes later]

Allison: Misaki, I found some information. Look at this graph!



(Grand View Research Horizon により作成)

Misaki: Wow, Japan uses the most money on vending machines of the six countries! We buy so many drinks from vending machines.
Allison: Canada uses the smallest amount of money of the six countries. What makes vending machines so popular in Japan?
Misaki: Umm.... I think they're convenient because people can buy something to drink when they're thirsty.
Riku: I think they're also helpful in difficult situations. In addition, nowadays, many vending machines use less electricity for the environment. By the way, did you know some vending machines were used for disasters?
Allison: No, what does that mean?
Riku: Well, some special vending machines can *provide drinks *for free during disasters.
Allison: Oh, really? I didn't know that.
Riku: Japan often has disasters like earthquakes, *typhoons, and so on. Did you watch the news on TV last week? It said that people had to go to the school gym because of the big typhoon. We sometimes have such disasters in some areas in Japan.
Misaki: Yes, I also watched the news on TV. Some people said they didn't know what to take when they were going to go to the gym. They also said that it was very hard to get water to drink because there was no water *supply.
Riku: In such a case, people can get many drinks from the special vending machines. For example, according to an article that I read, more than 2,000 drinks were provided from them when a disaster happened.
Misaki: I think vending machines can help a lot of people.
Riku: I'm sure they can. Moreover, Japan has been very hot in summer recently. I sometimes think it's dangerous.

Allison: Me, too. I also feel very tired because it's so hot and *humid! I often need to drink water to avoid *heatstroke.
Misaki: Oh, vending machines are also helpful for that, right?
Riku: Yes! Vending machines are really convenient because we can stay *cool and buy drinks easily.
Allison: I see! [B] I understand why people in Japan need vending machines.
Misaki: I agree. I've learned a lot today.
Allison: Yeah. At first, I thought there were too many vending machines in Japan, but I found that they had advantages by looking at them from another side.
Riku: Thanks to vending machines, we found a new way to see things!

5 次の英文は，拓海（Takumi）が書いたスピーチの原稿です。これを読んで，（1）～（6）の問いに答えなさい。

Do you have a *goal? I think having goals and *taking action are important for us. They can lead us to a new *stage of our lives. Today, I'd like to tell you why they're important through my own experience.

To show that, I'll talk about something interesting related to our *brains. Human brains work in a *clever way. When we're interested in something, our brains try to find it. In fact, when we think, "It's [A]," or "I need to *pay attention to this," our brains start to look for the information about it. For example, if we hear, "Today's lucky color is red," on TV in the morning, we'll start to find the red things more than before. Also, when we want to buy new shoes, we start to see lots of other people's shoes. This is called the color bath effect. It *plays an important role in having goals and taking action.

I didn't have a goal before. So, I was just in classes without really paying attention to them. At that time, I met a teacher who was positive in everything. The teacher was friendly and always spoke to me with a smile. He often cheered me up when my feelings weren't very good. From his *attitude, I thought, "I want to be a teacher like him."

After that, my daily life began to change little by little. I felt like studying more and then I listened to teachers more carefully in classes. However, I didn't know why that happened. Later, I found an article on the internet and read it *by chance. I learned that this change came from the color bath effect. After I found my goal of becoming a teacher, I started to [B]. So, I thought setting goals was really important.

Then, I tried many different things. For example, I read many types of books and joined a volunteer activity to play with children. When I tried something new, I got good ideas, knowledge, and advice from people around me. Now, I know teachers have a lot of work to do. From my experience, I believe that it's necessary for us to take action.

I think setting big goals like becoming a teacher, a doctor, a singer, and so on is important. However, it's also important to have small goals because we can start and continue them easily. We can get *confidence, too. For example, we can say, "I'll wake up early in the morning," "I'll read one book a month," or "I'll study every day."

Having goals and taking action may not be easy, but they will be helpful for us. We'll discover our future through them. If I become a teacher, I want to tell my students that it's important to have goals and take action. Everyone, let's do our best for our dreams!

注：goal(s)　目標　　taking action　行動すること　　stage　段階　　brains　脳 clever　賢い　　pay attention to ～　～に注意を払う　　lucky　幸運な
the color bath effect　カラーバス効果　　plays an ～ role　～な役割を果たす
attitude　態度，姿勢　　by chance　偶然　　confidence　自信

（1）　本文中の [A] に入る英語として最も適当なものを，ア～エの中から１つ選びなさい。
ア　common　　イ　young　　ウ　important　　エ　afraid

（2）　本文中の下線部 that の内容を示した英文として最も適当なものを，ア～エの中から１つ選びなさい。
ア　Today's lucky color was red on TV in the morning.
イ　Having a goal encouraged me to study harder in classes.
ウ　I met a teacher who was positive in everything.
エ　There were many types of shoes around the town.

（3）　本文中の [B] に入る英語として最も適当なものを，ア～エの中から１つ選びなさい。
ア　pay attention to things about my goal
イ　find the color that made me happy
ウ　imagine my future life as a doctor
エ　think that saving money was important

（4）　本文の内容に合っているものを，ア～エの中から１つ選びなさい。
ア　Takumi learned about the color bath effect when he listened to it from a teacher.
イ　Takumi believes that we should have big goals because small ones are not important.
ウ　Takumi learned about the color bath effect, but he could not find his goal for the future.
エ　Takumi wants to tell his future students that having goals and taking action are important.

（5）　the color bath effect の働きとして本文の内容に合っているものを，ア～エの中から１つ選びなさい。
ア　You can see the information about your favorite color on the internet more easily than from books.
イ　Even if you don't have a goal, you can decide one someday thanks to the color bath effect.
ウ　If you try to think more about something, you can catch more information about it.
エ　Everyone starts wearing colorful clothes that are introduced on TV or in comic books.

（6）　本文の内容に合うように，次の①と②の Question にある英文の質問に答えなさい。ただし，答えは Answer の下線部に適当な英語を書き，英文を完成させなさい。

①　Question:　What does Takumi want to say through the example of waking up early in the morning?
Answer:　He _____ important.

②　Question:　Why does Takumi think that having goals and taking action are helpful?
Answer:　Because he thinks that they will help _____ .

Emily: Hi, Kenta.
Kenta: Hi, Emily.
Emily: Do you have any plans for this weekend?
Kenta: Yes, I'm going to have a birthday party for my sister at our house.
Emily: Oh, very nice.
Kenta: I want to decorate the living room for the party. If you are free, can you help me and join us?
Emily: Sure! How old is your sister?
Kenta: She is 12 years old. So, she is going to be 13 years old this Saturday.
Emily: I'll bring something good for her. What kind of things does she like?
Kenta: Well, she likes flowers very much.
Emily: Oh, flowers. OK. Then, what will you do at the party for fun?
Kenta: Some of her friends will come and we will play a new video game. The game is fun, so she will enjoy it.
Emily: Sounds great! Oh! I have an idea. I'll make a special birthday card for her.
Kenta: Thank you so much! I'm sure she will be happy.
Emily: I hope it will be a wonderful party!

Question No.１　Where is Kenta going to have the party?
Question No.２　How old is Kenta's sister now?
Question No.３　What does Kenta's sister like?
Question No.４　What will Kenta's sister do at the party?

放送問題２に移ります。問題用紙の放送問題２を見なさい。これから読む英文は，倫（リン）が英語の授業で発表した内容です。英文を聞いて，①から⑤の英文の空欄にあてはまる聞き取った英語１語を書きなさい。英文は２回読みます。
それでは，始めます。

Have you ever used AI? AI is a new kind of technology. It can make pictures, music, and even stories. We also use it to study. For example, we can ask AI to explain difficult textbooks in easy words. On the other hand, some people don't think that this new technology is good because they think it may take people's jobs away. However, everything has both good points and bad points, right? So, I think AI can be very useful and interesting if we use it effectively.

放送問題３に移ります。問題用紙の放送問題３を見なさい。これは，２人の対話を聞いて，対話の続きを答える問題です。対話はNo.１とNo.２の２つあります。それぞれの対話の最後の応答部分でチャイムが鳴ります。そのチャイムの部分に入る最も適当なものを，ア，イ，ウ，エの中から１つずつ選びなさい。対話はNo.１，No.２の順に２回ずつ読みます。
それでは，始めます。

No.１
Woman: Hey, you look sleepy this morning.
Man: Yeah, I watched a soccer game on TV last night.
Woman: Oh, really? Was it a good game?
Man: （チャイム）

No.２
Woman: What do you think about this presentation idea?
Man: That's nice, but I'd like to see another idea, too.
Woman: Sure, I'll bring another one tomorrow.
Man: （チャイム）

以上で，放送によるテストを終わります。
